This May Half Term (Monday 28 May to Sunday 3 June) is the perfect time to get involved with some of the local youth sports programmes on offer at Kensington Leisure Centre, Silchester Rd, London W10 6EX.

Want to try your hand at basketball? The London School of Basketball are partnering with the centre to offer local children aged five to 11 years the chance to shoot some hoops on a free basketball camp, held on Tuesday 29 and Wednesday 30 May (2pm to 4pm).

See yourself more as a budding tennis pro? “Give It Your Max” are offering free mini-tennis sessions during the half term. Together with the leisure centre, they're encouraging local children of all abilities to pick up a racket and get active through one of the nation’s favourite sports. Sessions will take place on Thursday 31 May and Friday June 1 from 1pm to 3pm for children aged five to 10 years.

There is also free swimming for under eights on offer for the whole half term, simply turn up and join in any ‘Swim for All’ or ‘Swim for under-fives and adults’ sessions from Saturday 26 May to Sunday 3 June.

To get involved with the basketball or tennis camps (or both), contact Phil on phil.kemp@gll.org with your child’s name, date of birth and parent/guardian contact number. No need to book for swimming sessions but please take some time to read through the leisure centre’s swim safety rules that can be found online at www.better.org.uk/swimsafetyrules.

Please note that swimming lessons and other instructor-led sessions are not included.
Tech jobs for North Kensington

Get Into Tech is an exciting new project to get local people aged 16 plus into tech jobs. With support from SKY, local community organisations and businesses, The Kensington & Chelsea Foundation is launching Get Into Tech : North Kensington. They are offering a 15-week course beginning on Monday 3 September, it's free and exclusively for people who live in North Kensington.

To encourage people to join the course and to get to know more about the great jobs available in tech, they are holding weekly sessions leading up to the course which will take place every Monday from 14 May. All you need to do is bring a laptop if you've got one, if not, The Kensington & Chelsea Foundation will provide one for you.

At these weekly meetings, you will get to grips with the basics of technology and be able to talk to some of their tech partners about employment. Those who want to apply for the course can do so in July. There will be 16 places available. The course itself will take place in North Kensington as well as at the SKY campus in Osterley.

Monday Meeting Details:
Launch date: Monday 14 May (then every Monday after)
Time: 6.30 to 8pm
Location: Clement James Centre, 95 Sirdar Road, W11 4EQ

Support during Mental Health Awareness Week

The Mental Health Foundation is raising awareness of mental health, wellbeing and particularly stress as part of their Mental Health Awareness Week, taking place from Monday 14 May to Sunday 20 May. If you or someone you know is struggling emotionally, isn't getting the right support or you’ve noticed they might need a helping hand, support is available.

The NHS runs a free helpline, open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. The service is confidential and can be reached on 0800 0234 650. Just let the person on the end of the line know that you've been affected by Grenfell and they will ensure you are referred quickly to the right place.

You can also contact the Samaritans for around the clock emotional support. Call 116 123 any time and from any phone for free and in confidence.

You can access mental health support, advice, a cup of tea and a chat, and a quiet space to reflect, pray and relax at The Curve Community Centre, 10 Bard Road W10, 10am to 8pm on weekdays and 11am to 6pm on weekends.

DIY SOS to build new hub for North Kensington community

Work has begun on a new community centre and boxing club in North Kensington courtesy of the BBC construction show DIY SOS. The Dale Youth Boxing Club, which occupied a space on the first floor of Grenfell Tower and produced world class British boxers, is to find a home in a new building underneath the Westway.

Presenter of the show Nick Knowles said: “It is the biggest and morally most important project we have done in a long time.”

As well as the boxing club, the new building will include a community centre and a ‘social street’ that will be used for a range of activities and gatherings. The space is promised to be accessible to all in North Kensington, offering a new hub for the community.
